Dear Friends,

I am pleased to join all of you who have gathered to celebrate the success of Hofstra University on the occasion of its Celebration of Suburban Diversity 2010 Banquet.

Hofstra University has established a distinguished record of excellence, affording those who attend the opportunity to share in an enriched appreciation of knowledge and tradition, thus enabling them to meet the challenges of the future.

Hofstra University, under the leadership of President Stuart Rabinowitz, is deserving and worthy of the esteem of Nassau County for its selfless service to the community, which has made a permanent and positive impact on us all.

This year's event gives us the opportunity to recognize the achievements of tonight's honored guests Athelene Collins, Honorable John Cooper, Elaine Gross, Dr. Evelyn Blose Holman, Nereida Perez and Tai Wang, for their outstanding dedication to the community, and to all of you who work toward forwarding the goals of this fine organization throughout the year.

Best wishes for continued success in all your endeavors.

Sincerely,

In our favorite tale, "To Save A Starfish", a young girl walks on the beach after a storm where thousands of starfish have washed up on the shore. She throws a starfish back into the water and a passerby questioning her action laughs upon hearing she is saving the starfish's life. "What difference can a little kid make to all those starfish?" he asks. She replies, "I made a difference to that one."
